

A detailed site plan for a community development project. The plan features a central area with two circular pools, one labeled 'pool' and another 'pool bar'. To the right is a large rectangular 'event center'. The site is bordered by a 'river' at the bottom, with 'shore line' markers. A row of residential-style buildings follows the river's edge. Other features include an 'entrance' with a 'security post' and a 'reception area' at the top. The plan is populated with numerous trees and smaller structures, all set against a light background with a green-to-white gradient.
